SPECTACULAR BLAZE SWEEPS WILLARD

HOOVER'S TRIP CARRIES MUCH SIGNIFICANCE

Political Leaders Believe Summer Journey to Size Western Popularity

WASHINGTON, May 13 — Announcement that President Hoover will leave Washington late this summer for a "swing around the circle" of the west has aroused deep interest among the politicians of Capitol Hill.

Mr Hoover plans to leave Washington in August. At that time he will have completed a little more than one-third of his term, with the off-year election just a few months ahead. The politicians will be surprised if Mr. Hoover does not take advantage of the occasion to render something in the stewardship on the trip.

MANY INVITATIONS

There is already piling up on his desk a large batch of invitations to make addresses at various points along the westward trail. Civic organizations are flooding the White House with requests for visits and speeches, and by the time he steps forth there scarcely will be a city of any consequence in the West but has its bid in for a speech

By that time, too, Congress will have adjourned; the highly controversall Smoot-Hawley Tariff Bill will be an accomplished fact, for good or ill; the London Naval Treaty may have been ratified; and a start made on the Prohibition Reform upon which Mr. Hoover has laid so much stress.

The time and the situation combine ideally to afford a president an opportunity to review the accomplishments of his administration at a significant mile-post.

STAYED AT HOME

President Hoover has stuck closer to Washington during the first fifteen months of his administration than almost any president in recent history. Save for a few days trip into the middlewest, to Detroit, Louisville and Cincinnati, last fall, Mr. Hoover has not ventured far away from the capital He has had Congress, and a recalcitrant Congress at that, on his hands almost continually since his inauguration.

No effort is being made to conceal the fact that disquieting political reports have reached Washington in increasing volume lately concerning the popularity of the administration "out in the country."

The business recession that followed successive crashes in the stock market last fall; the resentment of some sections of business in the middle west over the Federal Farm Board's policies; the growing dissatisfaction with prohibition conditions, as disclosed in straw polls; the sharp division of opinion as to the benefits of the highest tariff bill since the famous Payne-Aldrich measure — all these and lesser issues have combined to make the Republican leaders exceedingly bearish about the forthcoming November elections.

TO VIEW PARKS

Mr. Hoover's decision to make a leisurely swing about the west is a natural development of the situation. Ostensibly, he will be going west to inspect the National Park development. The president undoubtedly is interested in the National parks, but he is more interested in the state of the nation as it affects his administration at Washington.

BARR SERVICE HELD MONDAY

Funeral Held In Methodist Church At Tarlton— Many Attend.

The funeral of the late T. Dell Barr, aged 57, former county treasurer, which was held in the Methodist Episcopal church in Tarlton, Monday at 2:30 p. m. was well attended by residents from all over the county, who came for the last time to pay their respects to a real friend.

Many floral tributes banked the small church, which the deceased formerly attended.

Rev. Harry Barr, a relative and very close friend of Mr. Barr delivered an eloquent sermon entitled: "What is Life," in which he said that he wished to talk about living beings and the responsibility of life. He paid wonderful respect to Mr. Barr, when he said he was the most active member in the community and was always up and backing every promising enterprise.

Rev. Thomas, of Ringgold also paid tribute to the deceased.

A male quartet furnished the music for the funeral service.

Interment was made in the Tarlton cemetery by Eugene M. Crites, funeral director of Stoutsville.

TURNER AFTER SPEED RECORD

Leaves Wichita At 11:12 Speeding Eastward Toward New York Goal.

BULLETIN

Colonel Roscoe Turner landed at Wichita, Kan., at 11:12 a. m. today and immediately sped eastward in his attempt to break Lindbergh's cross country record.

LOS ANGELES, May 13— In quest of a transcontinental speed record, Colonel Roscoe Turner hopped off from here today at 1 A. M. (Pacific Coast Standard Time) for New York.

Turner expects to land in New York within 14 hours of his take-off and break the record recently established by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife.

Turner, flying a low-wing monoplane of a model recently popularized for speedy air transport by Lindbergh, planned to make a stop at Wichita, Kansas, for refueling.

YOUTH CALLED TO DOOR THEN IS MURDERED

World War Vet In Jail Asks To Be Sent To Electric Chair For Deed.

WOODSFIELD, O., May 13 — What authorities described as a typical "hilly-billy" murder occurred at Hannibal, a small Monroeco riverfront town, near here, today when Raymond Tisher, aged 24, was called from his home there and was shot to death by Roscoe Suter, 32, a World-war veteran, according to police.

Suter, who fled after the shooting, was captured by deputy sheriffs a short time later while hiding in a wash-house in a secluded woods near a shack which was occupied by Suter and his friend, Frank Boettly, who gave his occupation as a farmer.

PLACED IN JAIL

Both of the men were brought to the county jail here. Prosecutor J. K. Sawyers, who said he had obtained a confession from Suter, declared he would file first-degree murder charges against the man. Boettly, who was with Suter at the time of the shooting, is being held as a material witness

According to the story which Prosecutor Sawyers declared that the hill-man told, Suter's shack was ransacked a few days ago and a few cans of vegetables were stolen.

Suter went to Tisher's home early today and summoned the young man, whom he accused of stealing the canned goods

Here, Henry Tisher, the father of the slain man, took up the story. He said he was attracted by the voices of the men which were raised in argument.

"I went to the door," the elder Tisher declared, "I see Sutor pull a gun and shoot my son."

USED 22 REVOLVER

Suter, according to the prosecutor, used a .22 caliber revolver. War experience had made the hillman a perfect shot One bullet was fired. It penetrated Tisher's heart.

WOODSFIELD, O., May 13 — "My God, did I kill him! I want to be executed! I want my life to pay for his! He was one of my best friends! "I don't know why I did it. I must have been drunk!"

Stricken with remorse over the death of Ray Tisher, aged 24, Hannibal resident, whom he shot and killed, Roscoe Suter, 32-year-old world war veteran, sobbed those words out to police today

Police said that Suter had been drinking, and that the man later admitted that he had some "moonshine stuff."

When first taken into custody, Suter asked: "How bad is Ray hurt?" A deputy sheriff told Suter that Tisher was dead.

"I ought not to have asked," the hill-man replied, "I never miss what I shoot at."

WASHINGTON BANK CLOSES

Ohio State Institution, Headed By M. S. Daugherty, Second In Two Months.

WASHINGTON, C. H. (special) —The Ohio State Bank, a consolidation of the Fayette County Bank, The Midland National and the Commercial Bank here three years ago, closed its doors at noon Monday, following heavy withdrawals by depositors Monday morning.

O. C. Gray, state superintendent of banks, Tuesday was making a check of the accounts of the bank.

The bank was headed by M. S. Daugherty, brother of former U. S. Attorney Harry M. Daugherty. Superintendent Gray ordered closing of the bank which had capital stock of $200,000 and on March 27 reported resources of $2,626,890.

Closing of the bank, following that of the Peoples and Drovers bank two months ago, leaves Washington, C. H. with only one bank, the Washington Savings Bank.

The Savings Bank brought in additional currency in two armed trucks from Cincinnati and Columbus to prevent any attempt at heavy withdrawals by its depositors.

TROOPS REGAIN INDIAN VILLAGE FROM RIOTERS

Civil Disobedience Leader Sentenced To Serve Six Months In Jail.

LONDON, May 13.— British troops regained control of Sholapur, important textile center 250 miles southeast of Bombay, today after rioting Indian nationlists had ruled the city for several hours according to dispatches received by the London evening newspapers.

Traders, fearing looting of their shops, remained in doors and refused to open up while the disorderly crowds milled through the principal streets.

Urgent calls for assistance had been sent out and at the behest of the District Magistrate, a full battalion of the Royal Ulster rifles was sent from Poona by special train.

British troops found it necessary to occupy Sholapur when bands of nationalist volunteers circulated through the city, harrassing pedestrains, interfering with traffic and otherwise attempting to paralyse the Civic administration of the city.

According to dispatches here, the demonstrators immediately dispersed when armed troops entered the city.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS

BOMBAY, May 13.—Abbas Tyabji, 80 year-old retired judge and civil-disobedience leader, was sentenced to six months in prison today after a secret arraignment and trial.

Tyabji was arrested with 59 of his followers as he began a march on Dharasana yesterday to raid government salt depots. He was acting as leader in place of Mahatma Gandhi, who is now held by British Indian authorities.

Fifty-three of the volunteer raiders arrested with Tyabji were sentenced to three months rigorous imprisonment.

Tyabji's sentence called for "simple" imprisonment.

Among those conviced was Kanti Lal Gandhi, grandson of the Nationalist leader, who was sentenced to three months rigorous imprisonment. Because of their youth, six of the volunteers were let off with a warning.

Eighty were arrested today when police raided the Bengal Congress Volunteers' headquarters at Calcutta, according to word here. A Nationalist flag was confiscated.

HEALTH GROUP IS GRATEFUL

Thanks P. T. A.'s. For Co-Operation In Pre-School Clinics In County.

The County Health department wishes to thank the following physicians and dentists for their assistance and cooperation displayed during last week at the Pre-school Conference: Dr. Loy C. Schiff of Ashville, Dr. Addison Kefauver of Stoutsville, Dr. R. E. Lightner of Kingston, Dr. G. D. Phillips and Dr. G. L. Hitler of Circleville and Dr. Charles Rockey of Ashville. This department also wishes to thank the Parent-Teacher organizations of Pickaway, Darby, Muhlenberg, and Walnut townships and Ashville for their efforts in having the children present and hope in the next three weeks they will make their first visit to see if any corrections have been made.

Eighty-four pre-school children were examined at these conferences. Records of these examinations have been mailed to the family physicians. We hope the physicians will encourage correction of such defects found.

The P. T. A. of Pickaway-twp deserves special mention for their efforts in the well organized conference and enthusiasm present in this project. This group of women is doing real work in the interest of their organization of their children and school. Why can't this spirit spread in this same organization in many of the other county schools?

Classification and number of defects found: Teeth, 67; Tonsils, 24; Thyroid Glands, 2; Potential Tuberculosis ,1; Heart condition, 4; Ears and defective hearing,3; Impaired vision, 7; Malnutrition, 3. Number of children free from defects, 4. Parents have these corrections made so your child can do more satisfactory school work.

POLICE HUNT GIRL SLAYER

Murdered 9-Year Old Girl Found In Desolate Bottoms of Creek.

DES MOINES, IA., May 13—The desolate bottoms of Four Mile Creek today continued to hold the mystery of 9-year-old Evelyn Lee's murder as the state-wide man-hunt for the child's slayer proved unavailing. The search continued throughout the night.

Abducted from near her home Saturday night, the child's body was found late yesterday in the wooded creek bottom on the outskirts of the city. She had been criminally assulted and then choked to death, according to police.

Detectives directing the search for the slayers described the murder as the work of a friend or a demented person.

Efforts of state, city and county authorities to uncover a clew to the identity of the killer have thus far proved unavailing. Bloodhounds employed yesterday failed to pick up a definite trail in the vicinity of where the body was found by two men picking flowers.

C. G. Shulze, president of the Third National Bank was at the bank Tuesday morning for a short time, after an absence of months

NORWALK FIRE FORCE HELPS SAVE UPTOWN

Believe Pressing Machine In Tailor Shop Cause—Rages Several Hours.

WILLARD, O., May 13— Fire, which for a time threatened the entire business district here, destroyed the Willard-Ashley shoe store today and caused damage to four other downtown buildings. Loss was estimated at more than $15,000.

The blaze broke out at 9:30 o'clock this morning. It raged spectacularly before it was brought under control nearly two hours later by the Willard fire department with the aid of fire-fighters from the Norwalk department.

Origin of the fire could not be determined immediately, although it was believed to have started from a pressing machine in the tailor shop of William Koegley, which was located at the rear of the Willard-Ashley shoe store.

The shoe store was completely razed by the flames. Other adjoining buildings, including a restaurant, hardware store, theatre and a bakery shop, were damaged.

The fire started in the Willard-Ashley shoe store, part of which is occupied by the Max Jump clothing store and the William Koegley cleaning and pressing establishment.

The building is located in Myrtle Avenue between Maple and Pearl streets in the heart of the business district.

From the shoe store the fire spread rapidly to the opera house, a nearby restaurant, and from there to a hardware store and the Mystic theatre and a bakery shop adjoining.

All fire-fighting facilities of the town were called out in a desperate attempt to stop the spread of the raging fire. Volunteers were recruiting from residents of the town to fight the blaze.

MEDICS OPEN CONFERENCE

Attendance Expected to Reach 2,000 — Clinics Held At Columbus Hospitals.

COLUMBUS, O., May 13 — The eighty-fourth annual conference of the Ohio State Medical Association was formally opened here today. Attendance is expected to reach the 2,000 mark.

Though the "bone-setters" were engaged in the serious business of the discussion of new trends in medicine and surgery, the tenth annual golf tournament of the Ohio State Medical Golfers' Association, which was played off yesterday, was being aired.

Dr. H. L. Wenner, of Toledo, was the best golfing doctor in the state. He went around the difficult Columbus Country Club course for a score of 114 for 27 holes. Dr. Carl A. Hyer, of Columbus, was second, with 119 strokes for the course.

At a meeting of the golfers' association last night, Dr. H. H. Atcher, of Dayton, was elected president.

Clinics were held at six local hospitals yesterday when 200 patients were put under the knife.

Dr. Robert B. Drury, president of the Columbus Academy of Medicine, called the conference to order this morning, when a general session was held. Sectional conferences will be held throughout the afternoon.

WASHINGTON C. H. ROBBERIES END

Three Negroes Held Incommunicado Following Raid By Officers There.

A series of Washington, C. H. robberies which have kept that city in an uproar for the past several months are thought to have been brought to an end Monday when three negroes were arrested in the northeastern part of that city with a truck load of plunder in the home of Mrs. Johnson. The arrested persons are Walter Goff, Mrs. Anna Evans, and Mrs. Almeda Johnson.

Goff was taken from a Columbus bus near Era following a tip that he was implicated.

O. C. Gray, state superintendent of banks,Tuesday was making a check of the accounts of the bank.

The bank was headed by M. S. Daugherty, brother of former U. S. Attorney Harry M. Daugherty. Superintendent Gray ordered closing of the bank which had capital stock of $200,000 and on March 27 reported resources of $2,626,890.

Closing of the bank, following that of the Peoples and Drovers bank two months ago, leaves Washington, C. H. with only one bank, the Washington Savings Bank.

The Savings Bank brought in additional currency in two armed trucks from Cincinnati and Columbus to prevent any attempt at heavy withdrawals by its depositors.

TROOPS REGAIN INDIAN VILLAGE FROM RIOTERS

Civil Disobedience Leader Sentenced To Serve Six Months In Jail.

LONDON, May 13.— British troops regained control of Sholapur, important textile center 250 miles southeast of Bombay, today after rioting Indian nationlists had ruled the city for several hours according to dispatches received by the London evening newspapers.

Traders, fearing looting of their shops, remained in doors and refused to open up while the disorderly crowds milled through the principal streets.

Urgent calls for assistance had been sent out and at the behest of the District Magistrate, a full battalion of the Royal Ulster rifles was sent from Poona by special train.

British troops found it necessary to occupy Sholapur when bands of nationalist volunteers circulated through the city, harrassing pedestrains, interfering with traffic and otherwise attempting to paralyse the Civic administration of the city.

According to dispatches here, the demonstrators immediately dispersed when armed troops entered the city.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS

BOMBAY, May 13.—Abbas Tyabji, 80 year-old retired judge and civil-disobedience leader, was sentenced to six months in prison today after a secret arraignment and trial.

Tyabji was arrested with 59 of his followers as he began a march on Dharasana yesterday to raid government salt depots. He was acting as leader in place of Mahatma Gandhi, who is now held by British Indian authorities.

Fifty-three of the volunteer raiders arrested with Tyabji were sentenced to three months rigorous imprisonment.

Tyabji's sentence called for "simple" imprisonment.

Among those conviced was Kanti Lal Gandhi, grandson of the Nationalist leader, who was sentenced to three months rigorous imprisonment. Because of their youth, six of the volunteers were let off with a warning.

Eighty were arrested today when police raided the Bengal Congress Volunteers' headquarters at Calcutta, according to word here. A Nationalist flag was confiscated.

HEALTH GROUP IS GRATEFUL

Thanks P. T. A.'s. For Co-Operation In Pre-School Clinics In County.

The County Health department wishes to thank the following physicians and dentists for their assistance and cooperation displayed during last week at the Pre-school Conference: Dr. Loy C. Schiff of Ashville, Dr. Addison Kefauver of Stoutsville, Dr. R. E. Lightner of Kingston, Dr. G. D. Phillips and Dr. G. L. Hitler of Circleville and Dr. Charles Rockey of Ashville. This department also wishes to thank the Parent-Teacher organizations of Pickaway, Darby, Muhlenberg, and Walnut townships and Ashville for their efforts in having the children present and hope in the next three weeks they will make their first visit to see if any corrections have been made.

Eighty-four pre-school children were examined at these conferences. Records of these examinations have been mailed to the family physicians. We hope the physicians will encourage correction of such defects found.

The P. T. A. of Pickaway-twp deserves special mention for their efforts in the well organized conference and enthusiasm present in this project. This group of women is doing real work in the interest of their organization of their children and school. Why can't this spirit spread in this same organization in many of the other county schools?

Classification and number of defects found: Teeth, 67; Tonsils, 24; Thyroid Glands, 2; Potential Tuberculosis ,1; Heart condition, 4; Ears and defective hearing,3; Impaired vision, 7; Malnutrition, 3. Number of children free from defects, 4. Parents have these corrections made so your child can do more satisfactory school work.

POLICE HUNT GIRL SLAYER

Murdered 9-Year Old Girl Found In Desolate Bottoms of Creek.

DES MOINES, IA., May 13—The desolate bottoms of Four Mile Creek today continued to hold the mystery of 9-year-old Evelyn Lee's murder as the state-wide man-hunt for the child's slayer proved unavailing. The search continued throughout the night.

Abducted from near her home Saturday night, the child's body was found late yesterday in the wooded creek bottom on the outskirts of the city. She had been criminally assulted and then choked to death, according to police.

Detectives directing the search for the slayers described the murder as the work of a friend or a demented person.

Efforts of state, city and county authorities to uncover a clew to the identity of the killer have thus far proved unavailing. Bloodhounds employed yesterday failed to pick up a definite trail in the vicinity of where the body was found by two men picking flowers.

NORWALK FIRE FORCE HELPS SAVE UPTOWN

Believe Pressing Machine In Tailor Shop Cause—Rages Several Hours.

WILLARD, O., May 13— Fire, which for a time threatened the entire business district here, destroyed the Willard-Ashley shoe store today and caused damage to four other downtown buildings. Loss was estimated at more than $15,000.

The blaze broke out at 9:30 o'clock this morning. It raged spectacularly before it was brought under control nearly two hours later by the Willard fire department with the aid of fire-fighters from the Norwalk department.

Origin of the fire could not be determined immediately, although it was believed to have started from a pressing machine in the tailor shop of William Koegley, which was located at the rear of the Willard-Ashley shoe store.

The shoe store was completely razed by the flames. Other adjoining buildings, including a restaurant, hardware store, theatre and a bakery shop, were damaged.

The fire started in the Willard-Ashley shoe store, part of which is occupied by the Max Jump clothing store and the William Koegley cleaning and pressing establishment.

The building is located in Myrtle Avenue between Maple and Pearl streets in the heart of the business district.

From the shoe store the fire spread rapidly to the oyster house, a nearby restaurant, and from there to a hardware store and the Mystic theatre and a bakery shop adjoining.

All fire-fighting facilities of the town were called out in a desperate attempt to stop the spread of the raging fire. Volunteers were recruiting from residents of the town to fight the blaze.

MEDICS OPEN CONFERENCE

Attendance Expected to Reach 2,000 — Clinics Held At Columbus Hospitals.

COLUMBUS, O., May 13 — The eighty-fourth annual conference of the Ohio State Medical Association was formally opened here today. Attendance is expected to reach the 2,000 mark.

Though the "bone-setters" were engaged in the serious business of the discussion of new trends in medicine and surgery, the tenth annual golf tournament of the Ohio State Medical Golfers' Association, which was played off yesterday, was being aired.

Dr. H. L. Wenner, of Toledo, was the best golfing doctor in the state. He went around the difficult Columbus Country Club course for a score of 114 for 27 holes. Dr. Carl A. Hyer, of Columbus, was second, with 119 strokes for the course.

At a meeting of the golfers' association last night, Dr. H. H. Atcher, of Dayton, was elected president.

Clinics were held at six local hospitals yesterday when 200 patients were put under the knife.

Dr. Robert B. Drury, president of the Columbus Academy of Medicine, called the conference to order this morning, when a general session was held. Sectional conferences will be held throughout the afternoon.

WASHINGTON C. H. ROBBERIES E N D

Three Negroes Held Incommunicado Following Raid By Officers There.

A series of Washington, C. H. robberies which have kept that city in an uproar for the past several months are thought to have been brought to an end Monday when three negroes were arrested in the northeastern part of that city with a truck load of plunder in the home of Mrs. Johnson. The arrested persons are Walter Goff, Mrs. Anna Evans, and Mrs. Almeda Johnson.

Goff was taken from a Columbus bus near Era following a tip that he was implicated.

OLIVER'S EXCELLENT PITCHING GIVES GORDON TIRES VICTORY

Errors By Doggy Ward's Nine Also Aid Gordon's—Score 6-0 With All Winners Runs Coming In Two Innings.

That unbeatable combination of good pitching, tight fielding and timely hitting as against numerous misplays, both of omission and commission caused the defeat of Doggy Ward's recreation team at the hands of the fast stepping Gordon Tires at Mason's Monday. The score was 6-0 and when the Wardmen were not popping the ball into the air they were driving it directly into the hands of some waiting fielder.

The victory is the second for the Gordons in three starts, while the Wards have lost two and won one in a like number of contests.

The game started with the first two Wardmen to the play against Oliver fanning the breeze. The next popped out.

Things didn't go quite like that in the Gordon half of the frame when three markers, enough to win the game, trickled over the plate. An epidemic of wild pegs and fumbles augmented by a pair of solid hits did the dirty work.

The Wards went the rest of the way through the contest failing to safely cross the plate although several times runners would be stranded on the hassocks awaiting a chance to break for the rubber. But that chance never came or else when it did come the runner would forget to take a chance until it was too late.

Three more markers crossed the sacred platter in the Gordon half of the third frame when the side should have been retired without a man scoring. Men were on second and third with one out when a double play should have gone through only to have a baseman drop a nearly perfect throw then peg the ball away permitting the two men and one other to score before the side was retired.

Gordons were blanked from the third inning on.

Jaggy Davis, Ward moundsman, does not receive discredit for losing the game because he granted only six hits. His teams fielding and failure to connect for base blows defeated him.

CUMMINGS TO DRIVE PETER DE PAOLO CAR

Sensational 23-Year Old Youth Chosen When Ralph De-Palma Declines.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Bill Cummings, sensational 23 year old speed star of dirt tracks, has been chosen to drive the second car of the two car team sponsored by Peter De Paolo and declined by De Paolo's famous racing uncle, Ralph De Palma, for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30.

When De Paolo entered the two cars, nominating himself as one of the drivers, he announced that he was inviting De Palma to drive the second car. Today he received a definite answer from uncle Ralph declining because of a business connection, demanding that he drive only in race cars on which a supercharger bearing his name was used. Superchargers are discarded by the rules for the coming race. Therefor the famous nephew-uncle team will not be seen on the track this year. De Paolo got his start in racing as De Palma's riding mechanic, later turned driver and became American Speedway champion in 1925 and 1927, winning the Indianapolis 500-mile race in 1925 in the record average time of stands.

So instead of a veteran star, De Paolo has selected a youngster who is beaming his first glow of stardom.

Cummings, only 23, was born within the shadow of the speedway and has been racing on dirt tracks for five and half years, but will be making his first start at Indianapolis at the wheel of De Paolo's Duesenberg.

Tall, muscular, alert in a shy manner, Cummings comes to the big league not flushed with his spectacular feats on the dirt tracks, but with an acknowledged appreciation of the practice apprenticeship he must serve in the company of veteran big leaguers on the most difficult driving path in the country.

"I've got a lot to learn," says this shuffling youngster with active eyes, a wife and a two year old daughter, Erlene. "I feel that I know how to drive, all right. Now I have to learn to drive the Indianapolis track. I know it is difficult and I will have many practice laps to aquaint myself with every peculiarity of the two and one half mile course before the race day.

"I consider it an honor to be selected for the seat on De Paolo's team which the great De Palma had been invited to occupy. That is a difficult order to fill. But I will try my best."

Cummings, who is Tri-State dirt track champion of Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, as well as Wabash Valley champion recently won on event of the year at Langhorne, Pa.

As a result of the victory and with 120 points it gave him, Cummings starts the 500-mile race as leading champion for this year.

SUMMER BRINGS AUTO THIEVES

Farm Insurance Superintendent Warns Car Drivers to Take Precautions.

Extra precautions are generally necessary against auto thieves in summer time, says M. E. Foltz, superintendent of claims of the Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, in a letter received by A. C. Leist, Pickaway-co. It is the warm weather which brings them out, he said, and causes more thefts to occur then than do take place during winter weather.

In summer there are more machines parked in streets than are parked in winter, Mr. Foltz said. Many drivers have formed a bad habit of leaving the keys in their machines and some even park their cars with the engine running. Both are tempting auto stealers and often in such instances the driver will return to his parking spot and find his machine has been taken. Even though a stolen machine is found it rarely escapes without damage that necessitates a trip to a repair shop, Mr. Foltz declared.

LEGLESS CRIPPLE PRESERVES LIFE

CHICAGO — Fred Beaver, a mechanic, probably owes his life to the massive shoulder muscles acquired by Virgil Thomas, 60, a legless cripple, in twenty-six years of using canes for locomotion.

Beaver was working under an automoblie when a jack slipped, causing the car to fall on him and pin his head to the ground. His cries were heard by Thomas, who hobbled over and with a heave of his powerful shoulders, lifted the car so that Beaver could pull his head free.

Doctors said Beaver suffered brain concussion, and had a lucky escape from a more serious injury or death.

COCA COLAS CONTINUE STREAK TRIMMING PETTIT-SINCLAIR'S

Contest Tightly Played With Maloney and Wallace Hooking Up In Hurling Duel—Errors By Both Teams Aid In Scoring.

The Coca Colas, leaders in the recreation loop continued their rampage Monday evening when they defeated the Pettit-Sinclair aggregation by the close score of 3 to 2 at Utilities.

However, those tire and oil men put up a real fight, and when errors on the part of the soft drink aggregation started to be scored against them, it looked bad.

Charlie Scott on third base almost lost the game for the Cokes, on account of his errors. He had four scored against his by the scorekeeper.

The Cokes started for a victory in the second inning when errors on the part of Brungs, Pettit third baseman caused two runs to be scored. A solid hit in the fourth resulted in another run for the soft drink boys, and this ended their scoring.

The Sinclair aggregation "got good" in the fifth inning and they scored two runs on Charlie Scott's and Eve Merriman's errors.

This loss is the second for Pettit's and will cause them to step down a few pegs in the standing, however, the Cokes continue to head the list.

Bob Maloney was on the mound for the winners and had one strikeout and gave one man a base on balls.

Carl Wallace in the box for the lossers had the same record as Maloney giving one strikeout and one base on balls.

Sherd Boyer and Rus Miller umpired.

A. A. STANDING NOT CHANGED

Only Two Games Played In Loop Monday—Dampness Halts Senators.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

With only two games played in the American Association pennant race yesterday, standings today remained unchanged.

Louisville continued its victory march with Milwaukee as the victim. The score was 11 to 8. Those two teams represent the first and the last of the ladder in that respective order.

Kansas City narrowed the gap between itself and Indianapolis by drawing a win from the latter outfit, 4 to 2. Indianapolis is now only one and one-half games ahead of the Blues in sixth place.

Rain caused the postponement of the Toledo-St. Paul and the Columbus-Minneapolis contests.

THAT a city looks like its citizens.

If there is anything wrong with your citizens, there is something wrong with your city.

If your back-lots are filled with unsightly trash, your alleys full of dirt and rubbish, there is something wrong with your city.

CLEAN UP YOUR CITY! KEEP IT CLEAN! IT MEANS DOLLARS AND CENTS TO YOU!

More cities die for want of public spirit than for any other reason.

When a manufacturer is looking for a location and a home and goes into a city and finds it full of enthusiasm and everybody working to build up the city as well as their own business, he joins the crowd. That city looks to him a good place to establish his business.

However, when he goes to a city where everyone is gloomy, where the people seem to be wandering around in a circle, where they have no faith in their city or its future, naturally, he moves on to a better city.

PEOPLE JUDGE A CITY BY ITS LOOKS.

DERBY CHOICES WORK TUESDAY

Ten Eligibles To Run—Draw Attention of Railbirds and Experts.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13.—Ten eligibles for Saturday's Kentucky Derby were ready to race together today in the Derby trial at Churchill Downs, a pre-derby event which has drawn the close attention of early arrivals among railbirds and experts alike. The event will be run this afternoon over a mile course.

Of these 10 the experts give only two entries a chance to place in the money next Saturday when the $50,000 pot of gold is distributed. They are Ned O., one of the quintet of eastern horses expected to start in the Derby, and Sydney, a prominent western contender.

The other eight in today's event are Ladrone, Dark Entry, Niato, Brother Rank, Playtime, Broadway Limited, Dick O'Hara and Uncle Luther.

Without Gallant Fox, Gallant Knight, Crack Brigade, High Foot or Tannery, the Derby trial will lack some of its expected flash, it is thought.

Tannery, the west's latest hope, was sent the full mile and a quarter yesterday with Jockey Willie Garner up. He did the mile in 1:41 1-5 and full route in 2:09 4-5, despite a somewhat cuppy track.

Kilkerry, of the Three D's stable, today appeared as a doubtful Derby starter, for the bad leg that has always bothered him was puffed up yesterday. Yesterday following a trial run Kilkerry pulled up limping.

Examination showed that the sheath of the middle tendon of the left foreleg had been strained or perhaps ruptured.

Trainers would make no definite announcement as to whether the colt will start Saturday or not.

FORCED INSURANCE RECEIVES SET-BACK

Compulsory automobile liability insurance, a proposal which the Ohio Farm Bureau is opposing, received two setbacks recently, word received by the Pickaway County Farm Bureau indicates.

A bill of this character was killed last week in the Quebec Legislature Assembly on the grounds that "experience in the United States had not been favorable." The Massachusetts Supreme Court has unanimously declared unconstitutional the Goodwin "state fund bill" for auto liability insurance under the compulsory law. The decision said the bill tended to create a monopoly unfair to insurance companies and also tended to take from the individual his right to contract with any insurance company he cooses.

ANGLO-CATHOLICS PRAY IN PROTEST

LONDON—A remarkable step is to be taken in June by 50,000 Anglo-Catholics who object to a reunion of the Church of England with the Free Churches if it involves the recognition of ministers not episcopally ordained.

For twenty-four hours they will kneel in a number of London churches and pray for guidance for the 370 bishops who will consider the question of reunion at the Lambeth Conference in July.

Evangelical churchmen desire reunion without the necessity for reordination of Free Church Ministers.

OLIVER'S EXCELLENT PITCHING GIVES GORDON TIRES VICTORY

Errors By Doggy Ward's Nine Also Aid Gordon's—Score 6-0 With All Winners Runs Coming In Two Innings.

That unbeatable combination of good pitching, tight fielding and timely hitting as against numerous misplays, both of omission and commission caused the defeat of Doggy Ward's recreation team at the hands of the fast stepping Gordon Tires at Mason's Monday. The score was 6-0 and when the Wardmen were not popping the ball into the air they were driving it directly into the hands of some waiting fielder.

The victory is the second for the Gordons in three starts, while the Wards have lost two and won one in a like number of contests.

The game started with the first two Wardmen to the play against Oliver fanning the breeze. The next popped out.

Things didn't go quite like that in the Gordon half of the frame when three markers, enough to win the game, trickled over the plate. An epidemic of wild pegs and fumbles augmented by a pair of solid hits did the dirty work.

The Wards went the rest of the way through the contest failing to safely cross the plate although several times runners would be stranded on the hassocks awaiting a chance to break for the rubber. But that chance never came or else when it did come the runner would forget to take a chance until it was too late.

Three more markers crossed the sacred platter in the Gordon half of the third frame when the side should have been retired without a man scoring. Men were on second and third with one out when a double play should have gone through only to have a baseman drop a nearly perfect throw then peg the ball away permitting the two men and one other to score before the side was retired.

Gordons were blanked from the third inning on.

Jaggy Davis, Ward moundsman, does not receive discredit for losing the game because he granted only six hits. His teams fielding and failure to connect for base blows defeated him.

CUMMINGS TO DRIVE PETER DE PAOLO CAR

Sensational 23-Year Old Youth Chosen When Ralph De-Palma Declines.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Bill Cummings, sensational 23 year old speed star of dirt tracks, has been chosen to drive the second car of the two car team sponsored by Peter De Paolo and declined by De Paolo's famous racing uncle, Ralph De Palma, for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30.

When De Paolo entered the two cars, nominating himself as one of the drivers, he announced that he was inviting De Palma to drive the second car. Today he received a definite answer from uncle Ralph declining because of a business connection, demanding that he drive only in race cars on which a supercharger bearing his name was used. Superchargers are discarded by the rules for the coming race. Therefor the famous nephew-uncle team will not be seen on the track this year. De Paolo got his start in racing as De Palma's riding mechanic, later turned driver and became American Speedway champion in 1925 and 1927, winning the Indianapolis 500-mile race in 1925 in the record average time of stands.

So instead of a veteran star, De Paolo has selected a youngster who is beaming his first glow of stardom.

Cummings, only 23, was born within the shadow of the speedway and has been racing on dirt tracks for five and half years, but will be making his first start at Indianapolis at the wheel of De Paolo's Duesenberg.

Tall, muscular, alert in a shy manner, Cummings comes to the big league not flushed with his spectacular feats on the dirt tracks, but with an acknowledged appreciation of the practice apprenticeship he must serve in the company of veteran big leaguers on the most difficult driving path in the country.

"I've got a lot to learn," says this shuffling youngster with active eyes, a wife and a two year old daughter, Erlene. "I feel that I know how to drive, all right. Now I have to learn to drive the Indianapolis track. I know it is difficult and I will have many practice laps to aquaint myself with every peculiarity of the two and one half mile course before the race day.

"I consider it an honor to be selected for the seat on De Paolo's team which the great De Palma had been invited to occupy. That is a difficult order to fill. But I will try my best."

Cummings, who is Tri-State dirt track champion of Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, as well as Wabash Valley champion recently won on event of the year at Langhorne, Pa.

As a result of the victory and with 120 points it gave him, Cummings starts the 500-mile race as ruling champion for this year.

SUMMER BRINGS AUTO THIEVES

Farm Insurance Superintendent Warns Car Drivers to Take Precautions.

Extra precautions are generally necessary against auto thieves in summer time, says M. E. Foltz, superintendent of claims of the Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, in a letter received by A. C. Leist, Pickaway-co. It is the warm weather which brings them out, he said, and causes more thefts to occur then than do take place during winter weather.

In summer there are more machines parked in streets than are parked in winter, Mr. Foltz said. Many drivers have formed a bad habit of leaving the keys in their machines and some even park their cars with the engine running. Both are tempting auto stealers and often in such instances the driver will return to his parking spot and find his machine has been taken. Even though a stolen machine is found it rarely escapes without damage that necessitates a trip to a repair shop, Mr. Foltz declared.

LEGLESS CRIPPLE PRESERVES LIFE

CHICAGO — Fred Beaver, a mechanic, probably owes his life to the massive shoulder muscles acquired by Virgil Thomas, 60, a legless cripple, in twenty-six years of using canes for locomotion.

Beaver was working under an automoblie when a jack slipped, causing the car to fall on him and pin his head to the ground. His cries were heard by Thomas, who hobbled over and with a heave of his powerful shoulders, lifted the car so that Beaver could pull his head free.

Doctors said Beaver suffered brain concussion, and had a lucky escape from a more serious injury or death.

COCA COLAS CONTINUE STREAK TRIMMING PETTIT-SINCLAIR'S

Contest Tightly Played With Maloney and Wallace Hooking Up In Hurling Duel—Errors By Both Teams Aid In Scoring.

The Coca Colas, leaders in the recreation loop continued their rampage Monday evening when they defeated the Pettit-Sinclair aggregation by the close score of 3 to 2 at Utilities.

However, those tire and oil men put up a real fight, and when errors on the part of the soft drink aggregation started to be scored against them, it looked bad.

Charlie Scott on third base almost lost the game for the Cokes, on account of his errors. He had four scored against his by the scorekeeper.

The Cokes started for a victory in the second inning when errors on the part of Brungs, Pettit third baseman caused two runs to be scored. A solid hit in the fourth resulted in another run for the soft drink boys, and this ended their scoring.

The Sinclair aggregation "got good" in the fifth inning and they scored two runs on Charlie Scott's and Eve Merriman's errors.

This loss is the second for Pett-it's and will cause them to step down a few pegs in the standing, however, the Cokes continue to head the list.

Bob Maloney was on the mound for the winners and had one strikeout and gave one man a base on balls.

Carl Wallace in the box for the lossers had the same record as Maloney giving one strikeout and one base on balls.

Sherd Boyer and Rus Miller umpired.

DERBY CHOICES WORK TUESDAY

Ten Eligibles To Run—Draw Attention of Railbirds and Experts.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13.—Ten eligibles for Saturday's Kentucky Derby were ready to race together today in the Derby trial at Churchill Downs, a pre-derby event which has drawn the close attention of early arrivals among railbirds and experts alike. The event will be run this afternoon over a mile course.

Of these 10 the experts give only two entries a chance to place in the money next Saturday when the $50,000 pot of gold is distributed. They are Ned O., one of the quintet of eastern horses expected to start in the Derby, and Sydney, a prominent western contender.

The other eight in today's event are Ladrone, Dark Entry, Niato, Brother Rank, Playtime, Broadway Limited, Dick O'Hara and Uncle Luther.

Without Gallant Fox, Gallant Knight, Crack Brigade, High Foot or Tannery, the Derby trial will lack some of its expected flash, it is thought.

Tannery, the west's latest hope, was sent the full mile and a quarter yesterday with Jockey Willie Garner up. He did the mile in 1:41 1-5 and full route in 2:09 4-5, despite a somewhat cuppy track.

Kilkerry, of the Three D's stable, today appeared as a doubtful Derby starter, for the bad leg that has always bothered him was puffed up yesterday. Yesterday following a trial run Kilkerry pulled up limping.

Examination showed that the sheath of the middle tendon of the left foreleg had been strained or perhaps ruptured.

Trainers would make no definite announcement as to whether the colt will start Saturday or not.

FORCED INSURANCE RECEIVES SET-BACK

Compulsory automobile liability insurance, a proposal which the Ohio Farm Bureau is opposing, received two setbacks recently, word received by the Pickaway County Farm Bureau indicates.

A bill of this character was killed last week in the Quebec Legislature Assembly on the grounds that "experience in the United States had not been favorable." The Massachusetts Supreme Court has unanimously declared unconstitutional the Goodwin "state fund bill" for auto liability insurance under the compulsory law. The decision said the bill tended to create a monopoly unfair to insurance companies and also tended to take from the individual his right to contract with any insurance company he cooses.

A. A. STANDING NOT CHANGED

Only Two Games Played In Loop Monday—Dampness Halts Senators.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

With only two games played in the American Association pennant race yesterday, standings today remained unchanged.

Louisville continued its victory march with Milwaukee as the victim. The score was 11 to 8. Those two teams represent the first and the last of the ladder in that respective order.

Kansas City narrowed the gap between itself and Indianapolis by drawing a win from the latter outfit, 4 to 2. Indianapolis is now only one and one-half games ahead of the Blues in sixth place.

Rain caused the postponement of the Toledo-St. Paul and the Columbus-Minneapolis contests.

THAT a city looks like its citizens.

If there is anything wrong with your citizens, there is something wrong with your city.

If your back-lots are filled with unsightly trash, your alleys full of dirt and rubbish, there is something wrong with your city.

CLEAN UP YOUR CITY! KEEP IT CLEAN! IT MEANS DOLLARS AND CENTS TO YOU!

More cities die for want of public spirit than for any other reason.

When a manufacturer is looking for a location and a home and goes into a city and finds it full of enthusiasm and everybody working to build up the city as well as their own business, he joins the crowd. That city looks to him a good place to establish his business.

However, when he goes to a city where everyone is gloomy, where the people seem to be wandering around in a circle, where they have no faith in their city or its future, naturally, he moves on to a better city.

PEOPLE JUDGE A CITY BY ITS LOOKS.

KANSAS CITY—In the old days, if a girl was rescued from drowning she would probably think too much of her "hero" to give him up for anything. This is not so today, however, if you take the case of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Barrick here.

Mrs. Barrick used to be a coed at the University of Kansas and when her present husband rescued her from drowning a flaming romance began. But now divorce papers have been led against Mr. Barrick, whose heroism has apparently worn-off.

CO-OPERATIVE WOOL SERVICE NOW AVAILABLE TO FARMERS

With the completion of the national wool marketing organization which has been in process of construction by the different cooperative wool marketing agencies under the direction of the Federal Farm Board since last October, wool producers throughout the United States have available to them a correlated producer marketing service.

The Ohio Wool Growers Cooperative Association which has been serving the Ohio wool grower for the last twelve years as a cooperative wool marketing agency, has obtained membership in the national wool marketing association and is a definite part of the National Wool Marketing service.

During 1928, 62 cooperative wool marketing associations handled 15,750,000 pounds of wool. The representatives of the 26 cooperative organizations perfected the organization of the National Wool Marketing Corporation, with a capital of one million dollars. Reports indicated that during this first year, from 25 to 30 percent of the potential wool clip of the United States will be contracted to and marketed through this Corporation. To be a part of this service, the Wool Grower need only to join his local association which in Ohio is the Ohio Wool Growers Cooperative Association, locatel at 2050 South High street, Columbus, Ohio.

Applications for membership may be optained from the Pickaway County Farm Bureau. The National Wool Marketing Corporation under the supervision of the Federal Farm Board has set up the National Wool credit corporation through which Wool Growers may be financed through loans to the individual producer. The wool producer though consigning his clip to the cooperative marketing agency may obtain advance of from 17 to 29 cents per pound on quality wools. There will be no added cost to the wool marketing service rendered to the Ohio Wool Producer. His own Wool marketing organization, a very successful cooperative institution has been so set up and operated during the past twelve years that the Federal Farm Bureau approved the producer contract and the service charges which have been developed throughout its successful operation.

Ohio Wool Growers need not give away their wool clip with this cooperative service at their door:

FRENCH FLYER REACHES GOAL

Arrives At Natal, Brazil, Early Tuesday Morning Blazing New Trail.

NATAL, Brazil, May 13 — Jean Mermoz, French aviator blazing the trail for a new air mail route across the reaches of the South Atlantic, arrived here today at 6:12 a. m. local time, or 5:12 a. m. eastern daylight saving time, completing a non stop flight from St. Louis, Senegal, Africa.

With Mermoz were three companions—A mechanic, a radio operator, and a postal official.

The seaplane, especially built for the newly inaugurated service, brought a load of 300 pounds of mail.

Searchlights had been kept on for several hours before dawn to direct Mermoz if he should reach the vicinity earlier than expected.

BUCK OWENS, FILM STAR COMING

Whoopee! Whoopee! This town is to have Buck Owens for a "personal appearance." He comes with his entire company direct from Hollywood and will appear with the Robbins Bros., circus both afternoon and evening of Thursday, May 15, the date when the world's largest circus, giving a street parade will be in the city for one day but giving a performance in the afternoon and evening. The circus has a large number of world wide features and is the outstanding circus of America. it has over one thousand people, two hundred acts, four hundred trained horses.

Buck Owens and his company of Hollywood performers travel with the circus for "atmosphere" and take daily camera pictures for their forthcoming production which is to have world wide distribution. He gives the audience twice daily an opportunity to witness how he makes a picture wherein he has gained so much of his renown. The crowd within the tent is pictured and the choice reels furnish the theme of his picture. The personal appearance is coupled with many manifestations of horseback riding, broncho busting, rope throwing and bull dogging. He performs precisely as he does in his pictures and what he does in these is ample for the entertainment of all. It goes without saying that every kid in the city will be on hand to take part—if necessary—and anyway see how their favorite moving picture cowboy is in real life.

KANSAS CITY—In the old days, if a girl was rescued from drowning she would probably think too much of her "hero" to give him up for anything. This is not so today, however, if you take the case of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Barrick here.

Mrs. Barrick used to be a coed at the University of Kansas and when her present husband rescued her from drowning a flaming romance began. But now divorce papers have been led against Mr. Barrick, whose heroism has apparently worn-off.

CO-OPERATIVE WOOL SERVICE NOW AVAILABLE TO FARMERS

With the completion of the national wool marketing organization which has been in process of construction by the different co-operative wool marketing agencies under the direction of the Federal Farm Board since last October, wool producers throughout the United States have available to them a correlated producer marketing service.

The Ohio Wool Growers Cooperative Association which has been serving the Ohio wool grower for the last twelve years as a cooperative wool marketing agency, has obtained membership in the national wool marketing association and is a definite part of the National Wool Marketing service.

During 1928, 62 cooperative wool marketing associations handled 15,750,000 pounds of wool. The representatives of the 26 cooperative organizations perfected the organization of the National Wool Marketing Corporation, with a capital of one million dollars. Reports indicated that during this first year, from 25 to 30 percent of the potential wool clip of the United States will be contracted to and marketed through this Corporation. To be a part of this service, the Wool Grower need only to join his local association which in Ohio is the Ohio Wool Growers Cooperative Association, locatel at 2050 South High street, Columbus, Ohio.

Applications for membership may be optained from the Pickaway County Farm Bureau. The National Wool Marketing Corporation under the supervision of the Federal Farm Board has set up the National Wool credit corporation through which Wool Growers may be financed through loans to the individual producer. The wool producer though consigning his clip to the cooperative marketing agency may obtain advance of from 17 to 29 cents per pound on quality wools. There will be no added cost to the wool marketing service rendered to the Ohio Wool Producer. His own Wool marketing organization, a very successful cooperative institution has been so set up and operated during the past twelve years that the Federal Farm Bureau approved the producer contract and the service charges which have been developed throughout its successful operation.

Ohio Wool Growers need not give away their wool clip with this cooperative service at their door.

FRENCH FLYER REACHES GOAL

Arrives At Natal, Brazil, Early Tuesday Morning Blazing New Trail.

NATAL, Brazil, May 13 — Jean Mermoz, French aviator blazing the trail for a new air mail route across the reaches of the South Atlantic, arrived here today at 6:12 a. m. local time, or 5:12 a. m. eastern daylight saving time, completing a non stop flight from St. Louis, Senegal , Africa.

With Mermoz were three companions—A mechanic, a radio operator, and a postal official.

The seaplane, especially built for the newly-inaugurated service, brought a load of 300 pounds of mail.

Searchlights had been kept on for several hours before dawn to direct Mermoz if he should reach the vicinity earlier than expected.

A. A. Parrett was removed from Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, Monday night to his home on E. Main street. His condition is thought to be critical, and attaches at the hospital said that an operation was not advisable.

BUCK OWENS, FILM STAR COMING

Whoopee! Whoopee! This town is to have Buck Owens for a "personal appearance." He comes with his entire company direct from Hollywood and will appear with the Robbins Bros., circus both afternoon and evening of Thursday, May 15, the date when the world's largest circus, giving a street parade will be in the city for one day but giving a performance in the afternoon and evening. The circus has a large number of world wide features and is the outstanding circus of America. it has over one thousand people, two hundred acts, four hundred trained horses.

Buck Owens and his company of Hollywood performers travel with the circus for "atmosphere" and take daily camera pictures for their forthcoming production which is to have world wide distribution. He gives the audience twice daily an opportunity to witness how he makes a picture wherein he has gained so much of his renown. The crowd within the tent is pictured and the choice reels furnish the theme of his picture. The personal appearance is coupled with many manifestations of horseback riding, broncho busting, rope throwing and bull dogging. He performs precisely as he does in his pictures and what he does in these is ample for the entertainment of all. It goes without saying that every kid in the city will be on hand to take part—if necessary—and anyway see how their favorite moving picture cowboy is in real life.

MORE BANK ROBBERIES

According to a report of the protective department of the American Banker's Association there has been a decided increase in bank robberies. In the six months ending Feb. 28, members of the association reported for investigation 311 forgeries, 107 hold-up robberies, 16 burglaries, two sneak thefts and eight mortgage swindles. Half as many non-member banks reported 86 hold-up robberies and nine burglaries.

"Unless an improvement is shown during the remainder of the year, the record-breaking total of 400 daylight bank robberies is indicated."

Banks are combatting this situation by installing up-to-date mechanical alarm systems and supporting the movement to have city police departments establish radio-equipped cruising squads.

The fact of an increasing number of such robberies is significant of the general crime situation. With firearms so accessible to crooks and with an increase in all sorts of crimes of violence, it is only natural that bank hold-ups should increase, too. Restriction of the sale of the guns that give weak and easily-tempted young men courage for such acts is of major importance in ending the evil.

TOKIO'S ACHIEVEMENT

The city of Tokio has just finished a task for which there is no parallel in history. It has built, from the ground up, in the seven years since its disastrous earthquake and fire, an amazing modern city for its 2,000,000 inhabitants.

Only one-tenth of the area of old Tokio was reserved for streets. Today more than one-fourth of the city is laid out in fine, wide pavements.

In this seven-year period Tokio has built 170 school buildings so up-to-date that they make many modern American schools look antiquated. It has built 117 bridges, seven of which were major bridges across the Sumida River. It has constructed two large parks, 50 small parks, 10 bath houses, five hospitals, seven government-controlled pawn shops, a big new municipal market, 10 children's homes, 10 public dining halls and 10 public boarding houses.

It has erected a business section of splendid 10-story office buildings. The new Mitsui bank has the largest banking floor in the world.

Tokio has planted 24,000 trees. The improvements made in sanitation, though costly, are expected to save in three years as many lives as were lost in the earthquake. The builders have made this modern city as earthquake-proof and fireproof as human skill knows how.

A quaint Oriental city seven years ago. Then a desolate, blackened ruin. Now a thriving, handsome modern city. It is an accomplishment Americans should respect.

THE PROHIBITION ISSUE

Figures don't lie, but in the hands of skillful manipulators they can be made to prove both sides of any question at any given time. That seems to be the case in regard to Prohibition statistics and polls. And the more everybody adds totals and indulges in heated argument, the more confused the truth becomes.

Modern authorities in child-training say, "Don't raise an issue with a child." Courteous requests and co-operation and appeal to the child's own good sense are regarded in these days as more effective ways of gaining a desired end than making an issue of obedience.

There are bystanders in the Prohibition row who think the same thing is true of that situation. If a magician could somehow, over night, make everybody forget Prohibition as an issue, it would be found that there are a surprisingly large number of sober, temperate citizens, many even who are teetotalers for the sake of convenience and through lack of a taste for alcoholic beverages as well as from conviction. It might be found that intemperance was decreasing steadily and naturally as a result of education and the growth of other interest.

Alas; There is no magician to give us blessed relief from the heat of argument and the naughty child complex of disobedience. An issue, once raised is hard to drop. It is hard to deal with rationally. But it has to be seen through to one end or another. That's the Prohibition problem now.

"SHEIK'S WIFE"
BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXI.

IF KEN had raged a little, if he had said something cutting and mean, Eve might have answered out of the white heat of anger. There'd have been a spat then, one of those storms that blow up on the horizon of marriage and go as quickly as they come, clearing the air and leaving peace in their wake.

But instead of this there was Ken's contempt, his terrible chill politeness, and the impulse which would have driven Eve contritely into his arms went out and left her defiant and hard.

"Headache, better?" he inquired formally, strolling over to the table and ruffling through a pile of magazines. His manner implied that it didn't really matter about her headache; that this was only a way of inquiring whether she had regained her right mind.

She had wept all the time he was gone and she was weary and ill and her anger flared. "Now that the baby talk is over I'm better, thanks."

"Eve, for heaven's sake! What makes you so spiteful? Of all the fool slants women get——"

"Oh, call me a fool—you'd do this—call your wife a fool. Well—at least I know what you think of me—I know you think I'm a fool——"

Ken shrugged, sat down with an elaborately hen-pecked air, surveyed her with hostile eyes. "What's got into you, Eve? Just because you don't like that poor little kid, a youngster all alone and on her own, do you have to take it out on me? Shabby, I call it, treating her that way when she's doing me the favor she is—doing us both the favor, by gosh. Little Puss Southwick — coming here day after day — giving up her time without a whimper——"

"Oh, she's the only one ever did that," Eve flung out. She bit her lip then, wished desperately the words had been left unsaid. Supposing he smiled in the superior way he had sometimes and said softly, "Ah, jealous?" This wasn't playing the game. You had to play the game when you married a boy like Ken; play the game if it killed you. If you wanted to hold your husband . . . and she wanted Ken. This minute she wanted to feel his arms about her, to sob against his shoulder, "It's all a mistake—all a mistake!"

"Look here, Eve," he was saying reasonably enough, "if you don't like Puss around I'll work somewhere else. I'm right in the middle of a cover you know. How about it? Do anything you want."

"No—I don't care," she said dully. "Don't mind me, Ken; I'm a little tired I guess. I'll get some sleep now."

He kissed her but in her hurt, high-strung state she fancied that he did not really wish to kiss her at all and so crept away to bed there to weep and doze and come awake weeping again. Along toward morning she stole through the corridor in her bare feet and peeped in at the living room door. He had dropped asleep in his chair, a magazine opened on his lap and the little hooked pipe he sometimes smoked dangling from his fingers.

Puss did not come in the morning. And after Ken had fretted and fumed through a wasted hour he telephoned the cottage she had taken in the small Summer colony at Spring Garden. Eve stood by as he sprang up from the instrument in a panic of anxiety.

"She's sick. Lordy, suppose she lets me down on this cover? It's due now and—darn these dames with something always happening to them! What'll I do? Right in the middle of the thing."

He was like a small boy clinging to her judgment, begging to be told what to do. And her heart went leaping with joy. He was thinking of Puss only as part of his work, fearing she would hold it back—well, then, he didn't care for Puss as a girl. Only as a model because he needed her to finish the cover he was doing. . . . Oh, she could be generous now; she could even like Puss a little, knowing that she meant nothing to Ken, after all!

With a little gurgle of happiness Eve put her hands on his shoulders, raised a-tiptoe and kissed her husband. "I'd go right over there if I were you, old lamb. Take your things along and be nice; say you just can't do a thing without her. I'm sure she won't be too ill to pose."

"You think so, Eve? You really think so?"

"I'm sure of it. Just try. You'll see!"

He was off in a whirl while she stood waving and throwing kisses. Long afterward she wondered if she had guessed how many times he would leave in just that way, if she had dreamed how many lonely hours she would spend while Ken lingered in Spring Garden, whether she would have let him go so blithely.

Today, however, there was a phone call from Nory.—"Jump into your glad rags and rally round, dryad. The great editor himself in person is about to make a first, last and only appearance and you're to have a look at him."

"Nory! Not Barton Wade? Oh, really——"

"The illustrious Mr. Wade, no less. If you're a good gal we'll let you pour tea. 'Bye."

"Nory—wait——"

But he had gone and from that moment Eve was in a mad flutter of preparation. She dressed herself, fluffed her hair, turned and twisted before the mirror with a care she had not taken since she first met Ken. "Though I don't suppose he'll notice particularly," she told herself. "He won't notice a dumb-bell like me."

(To Be Continued Tomorrow.)

Restrict Diet in Treating Cystitis

Persons in Middle-Life An Most Susceptible to This Disease, Says Authority, Suggesting Treatment

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.
U. S. Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health New York City.

VARIOUS requests come to me to write upon certain health subjects. A recent letter asked for information regarding the ailment known as cystitis.

DR. COPELAND

In this disease there is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bladder. It may even extend to the deeper structures in the pelvic region.

There are many possible causes for the trouble, but always there is some germ infection.

Many cases are found in cold weather, so exposure to cold is an other contributing cause. Certain drugs and alcoholic intemperance bring on cystitis.

Persons most susceptible to it are those in middle life, rather than the young. In aged persons it may be extremely serious.

Cystitis begins with chills and fever, symptoms common in any disease from germ infection. Usually the pain is located in the bladder but it may seem to be in the tissues below and around the bladder. Pressure on the abdomen causes pain.

Modern science has furnished the medical profession with many devices which help to diagnose disease. Likewise, they are used to aid in the treatment of disease. The discovery of one of these, the "cystoscope," has done much to mark an advance in our knowledge of cystitis. By means of this instrument the condition of the interior of the bladder may be ascertained by the physician and successful treatment given.

During an acute attack of the disease it is very important that the patient remain in bed and keep as quiet as possible. Rest is necessary in the treatment. Alcohol in every form must be excluded.

Wherever symptoms like these appear the only wise course is to have a doctor on the case and follow his advice. Sometimes serious complications arise in the course of the disease, so that no chances should be taken.

Some of the old-fashioned remedies are useful in this disease. Slippery elm tea is very good. It may be made by pouring a pint of hot water over an ounce of slippery elm bark. The use of this preparation serves to dilute the urine and to make it less irritating. Flaxseed may be prepared in the same way and is also helpful. Either of these drinks may be taken often and will give comfort.

Hot baths, particularly hot hip baths are useful. A hot-water bag will reduce the congestion and promote the comfort.

In all cases of cystitis the diet should be restricted. Sometimes by keeping to a diet of milk alone relief is found, and it supplies the patient with sufficient nourishment.

AT THE GRAND

"Harmony at Home", with Marguerite Churchill, William Collier, Sr., Dixie Lee and Rex Bell is the attraction at the Grand theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

The picture, all-talkie, is replete with rare light comedy with clean, wholesome humor. William Collier, Sr., returns to the screen with a bang. Talking news is also a part of the program.

AT THE CLIFTONA

What is this new melody everyone is humming? It goes like this—what's the name of it?

The answer is found at the Cliftona theatre where "Honey," sweet and stirring singing romance, is playing.

The melody is "Sing You Sinners" and it is just one of the five original songs to be heard in this joyous smash-hit starring Nancy Carroll.

"Sing You Sinners" is rendered by a chorus of 100 Southern-born Negro singers—men and women who can put over a jazz-rhythmed spiritual like nobody else can. The song is given in a captivating outdoors sequence of the production. A comedy reprise is rendered by little Mitzi Green, nine-year old sensation, supported by a cute group of darkey youngsters.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Vilma Banky will appear under the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer banner Wednesday and Thursday at the Cliftona theatre in "A Lady To Love." Miss Banky, whose services were secured by arrangement with Samuel Goldwyn, makes her all-talking debut in a picture adapted from an original story by Sidney Howard, author of the Broadway dramatic successes, "Ned McCobb's Daughter" and "The Silver Cord." The production was directed by Victor Seastrom and contains a noted supporting cast which includes Robert Ames, recently seen opposite Gloria Swanson in "The Trespasser," Edward G. Robinson, Lloyd Ingraham, George Davis, Gum Chin, Richard Carle, Anderson Lauler and Henry Annetta.

AT THE METROPOLITAN

"The Melody Man," the Columbia all-talking musical drama at the Metropolitan theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday adapted from the famous stage play of the same name written by Herbert Fields, Richard Rodgers and Larry Hart, has an entire sequence in technicolor.

The sequence depicts a social function at the court of the Austrian Emperor. It is particularly suitable for the use of this process because of the resplendent royal salon setting and the festive garb of the men and women-the men in gay uniforms and the women in the elaborate dresses of the early twentieth century.

For the natural color sequence the Columbia Costume department prepared one of the most pretentious wardrobes ever assembled for any picture. Special colors and materials were selected with a view of obtaining the most artistic results possible. All materials that absorb light were eliminated and only such textiles used that were tested in the Columbia laboratories and were found to be dyed with pure colors.

William Collier, Jr., Alice Day and John St. Polis are featured in "The Melody Man." Supporting roles are played by Johnny Walker, Mildred Harris, Tenen Holtz and Lee Kohlmar. R. William Neill handled the megaphone.

When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

Phillips does away with all the sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! And how good it is for the system! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

Next time a hearty meal, or too rich a diet has brought on the less discomfort, try—

Are you "Out of Step?"

The town has joined the big parade of Civic Pride. Most of us are in the long line, doing our bit, smilingly and well. We are tidying up our yards, we are planting flowers, we are mending things, patching things, fixing things, painting up, varnishing up, lacquering up, cleaning up and waxing up, until our homes shimmer and shine as if new once more. And why not? It is for our good and the good of our community. We want a town that all the neighboring towns will envy, don't we? We want a town that will attract desirable homesteaders and important industries. Are you in step? Or are you one of those who say: "Oh, what does it matter? I'm too busy now. Things are well enough as they stand?"

MORE BANK ROBBERIES

According to a report of the protective department of the American Banker's Association there has been a decided increase in bank robberies. In the six months ending Feb., 28, members of the association reported for investigation 311 forgeries, 107 hold-up robberies, 16 burglaries, two sneak thefts and eight mortgage swindles. Half as many non-member banks reported 86 hold-up robberies and nine burglaries.

"Unless an improvement is shown during the remainder of the year, the record-breaking total of 400 daylight bank robberies is indicated."

Banks are combatting this situation by installing up-to-date mechanical alarm systems and supporting the movement to have city police departments establish radio-equipped cruising squads.

The fact of an increasing number of such robberies is significant of the general crime situation. With firearms so accessible to crooks and with an increase in all sorts of crimes of violence, it is only natural that bank hold-ups should increase, too. Restriction of the sale of the guns that give weak and easily-tempted young men courage for such acts is of major importance in ending the evil.

TOKIO'S ACHIEVEMENT

The city of Tokio has just finished a task for which there is no parallel in history. It has built, from the ground up, in the seven years since its disastrous earthquake and fire, an amazing modern city for its 2,000,000 inhabitants.

Only one-tenth of the area of old Tokio was reserved for streets. Today more than one-fourth of the city is laid out in fine, wide pavements.

In this seven-year period Tokio has built 170 school buildings so up-to-date that they make many modern American schools look antiquated. It has built 117 bridges, seven of which were major bridges across the Sumida River. It has constructed two large parks, 50 small parks, 10 bath houses, five hospitals, seven government-controlled pawn shops, a big new municipal market, 10 children's homes, 10 public dining halls and 10 public boarding houses.

It has erected a business section of splendid 10-story office buildings. The new Mitsui bank has the largest banking floor in the world.

Tokio has planted 24,000 trees. The improvements made in sanitation, though costly, are expected to save in three years as many lives as were lost in the earthquake The builders have made this modern city as earthquake-proof and fireproof as human skill knows how.

A quaint Oriental city seven years ago. Then a desolate, blackened ruin. Now a thriving, handsome modern city. It is an accomplishment Americans should respect.

THE PROHIBITION ISSUE

Figures don't lie, but in the hands of skillful manipulators they can be made to prove both sides of any question at any given time. That seems to be the case in regard to Prohibition statistics and polls. And the more everybody adds totals and indulges in heated argument, the more confused the truth becomes.

Modern authorities in child-training say, "Don't raise an issue with a child." Courteous requests and co-operation and appeal to the child's own good sense are regarded in these days as more effective ways of gaining a desired end than making an issue of obedience.

There are bystanders in the Prohibition row who think the same thing is true of that situation. If a magician could somehow, over night, make everybody forget Prohibition as an issue, it would be found that there are a surprisingly large number of sober, temperate citizens, many even who are teetotalers for the sake of convenience and through lack of a taste for alcoholic beverages as well as from conviction. It might be found that intemperance was decreasing steadily and naturally as a result of education and the growth of other interest.

Alas; There is no magician to give us blessed relief from the heat of argument and the naughty child complex of disobedience. An issue, once raised is hard to drop. It is hard to deal with rationally. But it has to be seen through to one end or another. That's the Prohibition problem now.

"SHEIK'S WIFE"
BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXI.

IF KEN had raged a little, if he had said something cutting and mean, Eve might have answered out of the white heat of anger. There'd have been a spat then, one of those storms that blow up on the horizon of marriage and go as quickly as they come, clearing the air and leaving peace in their wake.

But instead of this there was Ken's contempt, his terrible chill politeness, and the impulse which would have driven Eve contritely into his arms went out and left her defiant and hard.

"Headache, better?" he inquired formally, strolling over to the table and ruffling through a pile of magazines. His manner implied that it didn't really matter about her headache; that this was only a way of inquiring whether she had regained her right mind.

She had wept all the time he was gone and she was weary and ill and her anger flared. "Now that the baby talk is over I'm better, thanks."

"Eve, for heaven's sake! What makes you so spiteful? Of all the fool slants women get——"

"Oh, call me a fool—you'd do this—call your wife a fool. Well—at least I know what you think of me—I know you think I'm a fool——"

Ken shrugged, sat down with an elaborately hen-pecked air, surveyed her with hostile eyes. "What's got into you, Eve? Just because you don't like that poor little kid, a youngster all alone and on her own, do you have to take it out on me? Shabby, I call it, treating her that way when she's doing me the favor she is—doing us both the favor, by gosh. Little Puss Southwick — coming here day after day — giving up her time without a whimper——"

"Oh, she's the only one ever did that," Eve flung out. She bit her lip then, wished desperately the words had been left unsaid. Supposing he smiled in the superior way he had sometimes and said softly, "Ah, jealous?" This wasn't playing the game. You had to play the game when you married a boy like Ken; play the game if it killed you. If you wanted to hold your husband . . . and she wanted Ken. This minute she wanted to feel his arms about her, to sob against his shoulder, "It's all a mistake—all a mistake!"

"Look here, Eve," he was saying reasonably enough, "if you don't like Puss around I'll work somewhere else. I'm right in the middle of a cover you know. How about it? Do anything you want."

"No—I don't care," she said dully. "Don't mind me, Ken; I'm a little tired I guess. I'll get some sleep now."

He kissed her but in her hurt, high-strung state she fancied that he did not really wish to kiss her at all and so crept away to bed, there to weep and doze and come awake weeping again. Along toward morning she stole through the corridor in her bare feet and peeped in at the living room door. He had dropped asleep in his chair, a magazine opened on his lap and the little hooked pipe he sometimes smoked dangling from his fingers.

Puss did not come in the morning. And after Ken had fretted and fumed through a wasted hour he telephoned the cottage she had taken in the small Summer colony at Spring Garden. Eve stood by as he sprang up from the instrument in a panic of anxiety.

"She's sick. Lordy, suppose she lets me down on this cover? It's due now and—darn these dames with something always happening to them! What'll I do? Right in the middle of the thing."

"She's sick! Suppose she lets me down on this cover——," said Ken in a panic of anxiety.

He was like a small boy clinging to her judgment, begging to be told what to do. And her heart went leaping with joy. He was thinking of Puss only as part of his work, fearing she would hold it back—well, then, he didn't care for Puss as a girl. Only as a model because he needed her to finish the cover he was doing. . . . Oh, she could be generous now; she could even like Puss a little, knowing that she meant nothing to Ken, after all!

With a little gurgle of happiness Eve put her hands on his shoulders, raised a-tiptoe and kissed her husband. "I'd go right over there if I were you, old lamb. Take your things along and be nice; say you just can't do a thing without her. I'm sure she won't be too ill to pose."

"You think so, Eve? You really think so?"

"I'm sure of it. Just try. You'll see!"

He was off in a whirl while she stood waving and throwing kisses. Long afterward she wondered if she had guessed how many times he would leave in just that way, if she had dreamed how many lonely hours she would spend while Ken lingered in Spring Garden, whether she would have let him go so blithely.

Today, however, there was a phone call from Nory. "Jump into your glad rags and rally round, dryad. The great editor himself in person is about to make a first, last and only appearance and you're to have a look at him."

"Nory! Not Barton Wade? Oh, really——"

"The illustrious Mr. Wade, no less. If you're a good gal we'll let you pour tea. 'Bye."

"Nory—wait——"

But he had gone and from that moment Eve was in a mad flutter of preparation. She dressed herself, fluffed her hair, turned and twisted before the mirror with a care she had not taken since she first met Ken. "Though I don't suppose he'll notice particularly," she told herself. "He won't notice a dumb-bell like me."

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Vilma Banky will appear under the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer banner Wednesday and Thursday at the Cliftona theatre in "A Lady To Love." Miss Banky, whose services were secured by arrangement with Samuel Goldwyn, makes her all-talking debut in a picture adapted from an original story by Sidney Howard, author of the Broadway dramatic successes, "Ned McCobb's Daughter" and "The Silver Cord." The production was directed by Victor Seastrom and contains a noted supporting cast which includes Robert Ames, recently seen opposite Gloria Swanson in "The Trespasser," Edward G. Robinson, Lloyd Ingraham, George Davis, Gum Chin, Richard Carle, Anderson Lauler and Henry Annetta.

AT THE METROPOLITAN

"The Melody Man," the Columbia all-talking musical drama at the Metropolitan theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday adapted from the famous stage play of the same name written by Herbert Fields, Richard Rodgers and Larry Hart, has an entire sequence in technicolor.

The sequence depicts a social function at the court of the Austrian Emperor. It is particularly suitable for the use of this process because of the resplendent royal salon setting and the festive garb of the men and women-the men in gay uniforms and the women in the elaborate dresses of the early twentieth century.

For the natural color sequence the Columbia Costume department prepared one of the most pretentious wardrobes ever assembled for any picture. Special colors and materials were selected with a view of obtaining the most artistic results possible. All materials that absorb light were eliminated and only such textiles used that were tested in the Columbia laboratories and were found to be dyed with pure colors.

William Collier, Jr., Alice Day and John St. Polis are featured in "The Melody Man." Supporting roles are played by Johnny Walker, Mildred Harris, Tenen Holtz and Lee Kohlmar. R. William Neill handled the megaphone.

SO. BLOOMFIELD

When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

Phillips does away with all the sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! And how good it is for the system! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

Next time a hearty meal, or too rich a diet has brought on the least discomfort, try—

PHILLIPS Milk of Magnesia

Are you "Out of Step?"

The town has joined the big parade of Civic Pride. Most of us are in the long line, doing our bit, smilingly and well. We are tidying up our yards, we are planting flowers, we are mending things, patching things, fixing things, painting up, varnishing up, lacquering up, cleaning up and waxing up, until our homes shimmer and shine as if new once more. And why not? It is for our good and the good of our community. We want a town that all the neighboring towns will envy, don't we? We want a town that will attract desirable homesteaders and important industries. Are you in step? Or are you one of those who say: "Oh, what does it matter? I'm too busy now. Things are well enough as they stand?"

Honor Mothers at Von Bora Dinner on Monday Night

Tables set in the form of the letter M, for mother had places for more than 80 guests Monday night at the dinner given by the Von Bora society of the Trinity Lutheran church, at the parish house, honoring their mothers Potted hydrangeas, clusters of cut flowers, and burning candles were the table decorations, in addition to place cards

These place cards, gifts of Miss Florence Hoffman were miniature copies of the Whistler's famous painting "Mother", and served as favors.

Following the main course of the dinner which was provided by all of the members who brought covered dishes, the last course was furnished by the May entertaining committee of the Von Bora society. The course included ice-cream, cake, coffee and mints

Members of this committee were Miss Magdalene Trump, chairman, Mrs. Minnie Seall, Miss Bessie Riffle, Mrs C. Walters, Miss Elizebeth Beck, Miss Ethel Cook, and Mrs. Grover Pickens

As soon as dinner was over, attention of all present was turned toward Mrs. James Carpenter, who was toastmaster for the evening, and director of the Mother's Day program.

Mrs. Carpenter opened the program with an address of welcome to the mother guests. Miss Bernice Buskirk was the first to respond. She gave a reading "Mother and the Girls"

The following two numbers were vocal solos beautifully sung by Mrs. Hazel Moffitt They were "An Evening Song" and .To the Sun". Her accompanist at the piano was Miss Abbe Mills Clarke

The next on the splendid program were two poems of Edgar Guest, appropriately read by Miss Florence Hoffman These were "Ma and the Auto" and "Mother's Party Dress".

Miss Mildred Barthelmas, accomplished whistler, offered "That Wonderful Old Mother of Mine"

A musical reading, "Just a Sort of Girl Your Mother Used to Be" was an outstanding number on the program This was given by Wilhemine Haecher.

Mrs. Hazel Moffitt and Miss Mildred Barthelmas sang a beautiful duet "Birds on the Wing" Their singing was accompanied by Miss Mary Heffner, pianist.

"The Greatest Love on Earth" was the title of poignant reading, given by Mrs. Clarence Wolfe

The program was concluded by a unique guessing contest The guests had brought old portraits of themselves and of their mothers These were placed on display and the identity of the old time pictures was the object of the contest, which continued uproarously, and provided a merry ending to an event, behind which was the thought for the mothers of the members It was their night and they expressed genuine pleasure, and appreciation of the occasion

MYSTERY SURROUNDS LOSS OF THE LA GITANA PEARLS

Mystery surrounds the loss of a quarter million dollars worth of jewels stolen from La Gitana, a notorious dancer, Friday night after she left the Cafe Montmartre

A tall handsome stranger was last seen with Gitana at the Cafe Montmartre, New York City. Now both the jewels and the mysterious stranger have disappeared.

Investigation is being made by Ignatius J Cassidy, head of a private detective agency, and Mr. Ernest Cadman from Texas, has been accused by him.

Cadman was at the home of the Culpeppers on Riverside Drive when he was recognized by the woman across the hall, who refused to give her name. This woman, known to her neighbore as Baby, told Cassidy of this. Detectives are reported to be on the search for Cadman

Cassidy believes that Mrs. Culpepper had valuable information which she is withholding.

She informed Cassidy that Archbald Stubbs is the man who stole the jewels. Stubbs however has a perfect alibi and was not held at the station. He has preferred charges against Mrs Culpepper for false arrest, defamation of character and for being instrumental in his loss of a job held at the Riverside Savings Bank.

Cassidy announces that he heard Mrs Culpepper shouting for someone to "Go out the window and turn to the right," but as it is two stories from the sidewalk this could not be plausible.

Complications continue to rise and several engagements have been broken as a result of this case.

The identity of the thief is as much a mystery as it was before. Learn the thrilling denoument of this mystery farce when it is presented by the senior class at the C H S auditorium, May 15 and 16. Tickets may be reserved gratis at Wilder's Drug Store, Tuesday, May 13

NOVARRO ON RADIO

NEW YORK,—"The radio and the moving pictures are working together to create a new artistic America. They now have a common language———music."

Ramon Navarro, screen star to the public but musician in his heart, further declared today that most radio fans were film fans and vice versa.

The handsome young movie actor makes his singing debut over the radio tonight in a national hookup.

"Farmer and factory worker are listening to the best music in the world," continued Novarro. "Children over their toys are hearing the music of the masters on the radio. A national art must be absorbed like that and the next generation will be genuine lovers of fine music."

Novarro believes that television is just around the corner and that when it comes it will make the radio and the talkies first-cousins.

Although recognized as having one of the finest lyrical tenor voices in the movies, Novarro is extremely modest.

"I am still only a student," he said.

Following his radio debut, Novarro is returning to East Lansing, Mich., where he is studying harmony, composition and piano under Louis Graveure, the well known singer. That is the way Novarro is spending his vacation.

"I used to teach piano myself," said Novarro

Novarro will go on the "mike" tonight from 9.30 p. m. to 10 p. m. (Eastern Daylight Time) over the national broadcasting company net work which includes stations at New York, Springfield, Boston, Baltimore, Rochester, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Olkahoma City, Chicago and Toronto.

His selections will include:

"Into My Heart" (he composed part of it himself) It is one of the songs in his latest picture "In Gay Madrid," a Metro production.

"Cielito Lindo" (beautiful little heaven), a Mexican folk song.

"Le Mirroir" (The Looking Glass).

MEANDERING 'ROUND THE TOWN

Upon interviewing C. A. Leist after his return from the Beulah Park track, all C. A. had to say was: "The horse is man's best friend until he bets on him."

Young Master David Lee Olney, who is going places in his new Whitney Baby Carriage, reports that this method of transportation leaves nothing to be desired.

J. W. Johnson maintains that it may be all right to know which fork to use at the dinner table, but the important thing right now is using the right fork in the vegetable garden.

If you spend it here, you're sure to get your money's worth Value—one of the store's old customs, if you please. And quality Both at moderate prices. If it wasn't for this lazy weather, we could get all enthusiastic about it. But we'll save that until you come in.

As you know, Ed C Ebert is opening a confectionery store on S Court St. One day, while the fountain was being installed, H. G. dropped in to watch the workmen. Ed introduced H. G. to a Mrs. Kaiser, wife of the man that was supervising the installation of the fountain. During the conversation, electric refrigeration was mentioned and Mrs. Kaiser stated that she has had a KELVINATOR in her home for EIGHT YEARS, and that she has NEVER had any cause to call a service man in all that time She has paid NOT ONE CENT for service in the EIGHT YEARS. Neither has she had cause to ask for service. We call that good work.

* * *

When it came to selecting a line of electric refrigerators for this store we chose the KELVINATOR It was chosen because of the long experience the factory has had in building electric refrigeration (16 years of it), and for the reason that Kelvinator users are satisfied users. Right here in Roundtown are Kelvinators that have been in service for six to eight years, and they are giving satisfactory service to their owners. Why experiment? Buy a Kelvinator that has stood the test of time and work. Drop into the store and let us explain why the Kelvinator is lower in first cost, and lower in cost of operation.

The American people, according to one of our Senators, need a new Lincoln. Bob Brehmer, affable motor car dealer, says he'd be satisfied if more people would invest in a new Ford.

As you near the top of the hill, entering Adelphi, you will notice a large house, painted yellow, on the right, surrounded by quite a few trees. In passing this house, which is the home of Mr. W. J. Binkley, you may notice Mr. Binkley taking a nap in a couch hammock "in the shade of an old apple tree." That swing was delivered to him last Saturday. We hope that our good friend will enjoy it many times this summer and for several summers to come. You'd enjoy one, too, these hot evenings. Why not drop in and have us deliver one to your home?

It won't be long before we'll be enjoying the kind of weather that folks enjoyed all winter long in Heatrola-heated homes.

* * *

Naturally, it's entirely up to you housewives. But if you don't care to swelter in a red-hot kitchen all summer long, why not inspect the new Estate Gas Ranges with Insulated Oven. Twenty pounds of rock wool keep the heat inside the oven where it belongs. Result: oven-hot, kitchen-cool. Come in, we'll explain it all to you.

Boss: "What do you mean by arguing with that customer? Don't you know that the customer is always right?"

Salesman: "Sure I do, but this one insisted that he was wrong."

* * *

Here's a story that was "honey" to our ears. Back when H. G. didn't know a buffet from a chiffonier, a young woman from the country began buying from us She has been a good customer of ours during all of the years that we have been in this business. One day last week this lady called and bought a living room suite and an unfinished breakfast set. She told H. G. that another furniture man had tried to sell her a living room suite. But, as she had always received courteous treatment, good goods at good prices, and good service from us, she preferred to buy her suite from us. This story, coming from one that has been dealing with this store these many years, surely warmed the cockles of our heart. She has had ample opportunity to test our goods and service and knows whereof she speaks. May we suggest that you try us? We're quite sure that you will like to deal with us. Why not throw away that furniture that went out of style with "hair rats" and put in some of the latest style.

* * *

By the way, Stevenson's will have a birthday on Thursday of this week. We'll be fourteen years old. It has been a pleasure to us to serve our customers all through these years, we can assure you.

* * *

Wouldn't one of those Estate gas ranges, with the heat retaining ovens be a real pleasure to use during the hot spells that we have been having? And the pretty part of it is the use and pleasure is not confined to those living in the city but may be used ANYWHERE by the use of PYROFAX. You folks that live in the country, drop in and let us explain how easily you may have gas for cooking and baking.

Honor Mothers at Von Bora Dinner on Monday Night

Tables set in the form of the letter M, for mother had places for more than 80 guests Monday night at the dinner given by the Von Bora society of the Trinity Lutheran church, at the parish house, honoring their mothers. Potted hydrangeas, clusters of cut flowers, and burning candles were the table decorations, in addition to place cards.

These place cards, gifts of Miss Florence Hoffman were miniature copies of the Whistler's famous painting "Mother", and served as favors.

Following the main course of the dinner which was provided by all of the members who brought covered dishes, the last course was furnished by the May entertaining committee of the Von Bora society. The course included ice-cream, cake, coffee and mints.

Members of this committee were Miss Magdalene Trump, chairman, Mrs. Minnie Seall, Miss Bessie Riffle, Mrs. C. Walters, Miss Elizebeth Beck, Miss Ethel Cook, and Mrs. Grover Pickens.

The Home's Most Beautiful Comfort Aid

No equal to the delightful charm that awnings impart to homes. It's a tasty touch of dignified and informal color—always graceful and handsome. Gaily tinted or plain, riotously hued or solid shades, there's an atmosphere of attractiveness about the awninged house that tells a pleasant story of good judgment in furnishings.

LET US SHOW YOU THE MANY PATTERNS AND ESTIMATE THE COST.

Clean Up and Paint Up With Linoleum

Some Floors Are Like Some Faces—They Radiate Happiness

How true it is that some floors seem to possess almost human attributes. They greet you with a smile, are cheerful and companionable. They make everything else and everybody—seem brighter and better.

We are now showing the newest designs in Armstrong Linoleums—and of course Accolac—Processed—which seals them against staining and spotting.

MEANDERING 'ROUND THE TOWN

Upon interviewing C. A. Leist after his return from the Beulah Park track, all C. A. had to say was: "The horse is man's best friend until he bets on him."

Young Master David Lee Olney, who is going places in his new Whitney Baby Carriage, reports that this method of transportation leaves nothing to be desired.

J. W. Johnson maintains that it may be all right to know which fork to use at the dinner table, but the important thing right now is using the right fork in the vegetable garden.

If you spend it here, you're sure to get your money's worth. Value—one of the store's old customs, if you please. And quality. Both at moderate prices. If it wasn't for this lazy weather, we could get all enthusiastic about it. But we'll save that until you come in.

As you know, Ed. C. Ebert is opening a confectionery store on S. Court St. One day, while the fountain was being installed, H. G. dropped in to watch the workmen. Ed. introduced H. G. to a Mrs. Kaiser, wife of the man that was supervising the installation of the fountain. During the conversation, electric refrigeration was mentioned and Mrs. Kaiser stated that she has had a KELVINATOR in her home for EIGHT YEARS, and that she has NEVER had any cause to call a service man in all that time. She has paid NOT ONE CENT for service in the EIGHT YEARS. Neither has she had cause to ask for service. We call that good work.

* * *

When it came to selecting a line of electric refrigerators for this store, we chose the KELVINATOR. It was chosen because of the long experience the factory has had in building electric refrigeration (16 years of it), and for the reason that Kelvinator users are satisfied users. Right here in old Roundtown are Kelvinators that have been in service for six to eight years, and they are giving satisfactory service to their owners. Why experiment? Buy a Kelvinator that has stood the test of time and work. Drop into the store and let us explain why the Kelvinator is lower in first cost, and lower in cost of operation.

The American people, according to one of our Senators, need a new Lincoln. Bob Brehmer, affable motor car dealer, says he'd be satisfied if more people would invest in a new Ford.

Drug Store Clerk: "I hear Jones fell down on his pharmacy examination."

Manager: "Yes—he got mixed up on the difference between a club and a western sandwich."

As you near the top of the hill, entering Adelphi, you will notice a large house, painted yellow, on the right, surrounded by quite a few trees. In passing this house, which is the home of Mr. W. J. Binkley, you may notice Mr. Binkley taking a nap in a couch hammock "in the shade of an old apple tree." That swing was delivered to him last Saturday. We hope that our good friend will enjoy it many times this summer and for several summers to come. You'd enjoy one, too, these hot evenings. Why not drop in and have us deliver one to your home?

For real comfortable chairs for the porch or lawn, we recommend Pioneer Hickory. We have them unfinished, varnished, and decorated.

Our store is the local agency for the nationally-known Sellers Kitchen Cabinets. And we are showing the 1930 models in colors to match any kitchen.

It won't be long before we'll be enjoying the kind of weather that folks enjoyed all winter long in Heatrola-heated homes.

* * *

Naturally, it's entirely up to you housewives. But if you don't care to swelter in a red-hot kitchen all summer long, why not inspect the new Estate Gas Ranges with Insulated Oven. Twenty pounds of rock wool keep the heat inside the oven where it belongs. Result: oven-hot, kitchen-cool. Come in, we'll explain it all to you.

Boss: "What do you mean by arguing with that customer? Don't you know that the customer is always right?"

Salesman: "Sure I do, but this one insisted that he was wrong."

* * *

Here's a story that was "honey" to our ears. Back when H. G. didn't know a buffet from a chiffonier, a young woman from the country began buying from us. She has been a good customer of ours during all of the years that we have been in this business. One day last week this lady called and bought a living room suite and an unfinished breakfast set. She told H. G. that another furniture man had tried to sell her a living room suite. But, as she had always received courteous treatment, good goods at good prices, and good service from us, she preferred to buy her suite from us. This story, coming from one that has been dealing with this store these many years, surely warmed the cockles of our heart. She has had ample opportunity to test our goods and service and knows whereof she speaks. May we suggest that you try us? We're quite sure that you will like to deal with us. Why not throw away that furniture that went out of style with "hair rats" and put in some of the latest style.

* * *

By the way, Stevenson's will have a birthday on Thursday of this week. We'll be fourteen years old. It has been a pleasure for us to serve our customers all through these years, we can assure you.

* * *

Wouldn't one of those Estate gas ranges, with the heat retaining ovens be a real pleasure to use during the hot spells that we have been having? And the pretty part of it is, the use and pleasure is not confined to those living in the city but may be used ANYWHERE by the use of PYROFAX. You folks that live in the country, drop in and let us explain how easily you may have gas for cooking and baking.

HOMER HANDY'S HINT

If polished furniture becomes scratched, rub with butcher's wax and polish. The scratches will soon disappear and the furniture will take on a dull finish.
